RESERVES INCREASED; STOCKS RULE STRONG

Motors Take Leadership. Studebaker in the Van.

By BROADAN WALL.

New York, Dec. 22.—In the actual bank statement today surplus reserves were increased 55,125,600, loans decreased 52,005,000 and net demand deposits increased 52,005,000. The average statement showed surplus reserves increased 51,502,500, loans decreased 54,615,000 and net demand deposits decreased 52,000.

strated taken and net demand deposits de-creased $2,000. The stock market was strong throughout the session, with the mo-irs in leadership. Of this group Stu-debaker attracted most attention and at one time showed a gross advance of nearly five points. General Motors, Willys-Overland and Maxwell were other active issues. Westinghouse other active issues. Westinghouse was the most important industrial to move upward. The railroad list was strong and a few moved higher. In many there were signs of profit-

The most important feature of the day was the general strength of all stocks in the face of profit-taking. Investors continued to take stocks and the selling orders were confined al-most entirely to traders. The invest-ment world as a whole is firm in the belief that a square deal is certain belief that a square deal is certain from the government from now on.

Tobacco shares are being watched with doubt by investors, who see in the new opposition to wholesale supplies for the soldlers proof that friends of the weed have overdone the stock market end of the business. The pool activity in tobacco stocks that has run along with the loving kindness of tobacco manufacturers for soldlers has been conspicuously in bad taste. It been conspicuously in bad taste. It is the fear now of tobacco men that with the crusaders of the country vic-torious in the fight against alcohol they will direct their well-organized forces against the cigarette. The garette is the most profitable part the tobacco business.

Railroad developments of the past week should result in the release of at least 200,000 men for other lines of work thus forces in the laboration of the second secon least 200,000 men for other lines of work, thus increasing the labor supply of the country.

Revival of the market has already inspired the formation of several pools in specoalties. As soon as speculators get a line on the relative values of railroads organization of pools may be expected in many quarters of the man So frightened was Wall Street that for weeks brokers abandoned sincere efforts to get new customers. Now they are starting again campaigns of education, so that greater activity will naturally be seen.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

By JOSEPH F. PRITCHARD.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—Advances were shown of lact to like for corn today. The markets were fairly active, and today. The markets were fairly active, and there was a lack of pressure from either longs or those who wasted to put out short linds. Cash corn continued firm, and while the general business in the grains was small, there were export bids here for outs, and there were many orders for corn held here.

It was rumored that locomotives intended for mae in Russia will be turned to the Western grain section. It is generally believed that the many pewer rumors in circulation are favorable to the ending of the way.

City's Trackless Trolleys Prove Success in England

Railless trolley traction has proved a success in Bradford, England, and has been operated at a profit by the municipality. The low capital expenditure (one-tenth that required for the ordinary tramway system) has enabled many rural and suburban communities to obtain a passenger service at modtrackless motor car is regarded as a pioneer service pre-ceding the installation of an ordinary trolley route, and serving as a feeder for Bradford's main elec-tric transportation service. Its pri-inary function is to tap the thinly populated areas, serve them until their development requires a per-manent way, and then move on to new areas. Another important function performed by the trackless cars is in forming connecting links between the terminals of existing trolley lines and facilitating rapid intercommunication in the network of lines operated by the municipality. The first trackless trolley service

The first trackless trolley service in Bradford was installed in June. 1911. There are now five such routes operated by the municipality, comprising a total mileage of 9.5 miles. The statistical return for 1916 showed a car mileage on the railless system of 322,390, as against 177.553 in 1915. The total operating 177,653 in 1915. The total operating cost for the eighteen cars in use (including interest and sinking fund charges) was 15.5 cents per car mile, and during 1916 the num-ber of passengers carried was 3,402,985. Half fares are charged before 8 a.m. the lewest charges before 9 a. m., the lowest charge being 1 cent, and special reduced fares apply to children going to and from school. The route is divided into stages, and the fare is according to the distance traveled. The average fare per mile is 1.3

Each car has a seating capacity of twenty-nine persons, and a crew of two, consisting of motorman and conductor. The current is obtained from overhead trolley wires, and the vehicle runs along the high-road on solid rubber tires. At the terminus the cars are turned, without removing the trolley connection by means of an overhead trolley reverser of triangular shape. The machines cause considerable damage to the roads over which they run, and the highways require regular attention and care, a smooth road being a prerequisite to successful operation. The ma-cadam and concrete types of road construction are favored in the environs of Bradford, where large are available spectfully invited.

Although railless traction is financially a success in Bradford, an exact statistical return is misleading, inasmuch as the "feeding value" is not, and cannot be taken into consideration in the accounts for railless traction in contradistinction from the municipal system as an entity. The routes along which the cars run are sometimes routes upon which rails could not be laid specified.

Measure Man by Photograph.

If you are a busy man and do not like to use up a lot of your valua-ble time in being measured for your new suit of clothes, you can have your measurements taken in the twinkling of an eye by photograph.

This is the basic idea of a patent granted to Emery E. Costly, of Walkersville, Maryland.
